Languages vary greatly from region to region. They are so different that a person does not understand the language of someone from another region, country or continent. So, it is not surprising to hear that today about 7000 languages exist in the world. There are more than 2000 languages in Africa, 1000 in the Americas, more than 2250 in Asia, about 230 in Europe, and more than 1300 in Australia.

Native speakers of these languages range in size from very large, with hundreds of millions of speakers, to very small, with fewer than 10 speakers. The most popular language in the world is Chinese. More than one billion people in the world speak Chinese. English does not have this number of native speakers, but it has around one billion learners around the world. They learn English as an international language.

All languages are really valuable, despite their differences. Every language is an amazing means of communication that meets the needs of its speakers. It is impossible to imagine the world without language. Therefore, we must respect all languages, no matter how different they are and how many speakers they have.
